Course application for doctoral students

Please fill in this form to apply for the doctoral course. We will contact you with more information regarding the course and to confirm your participation.

The Course Retail Research Fundamenta is free of charge for doctoral students belonging to the Faculty of Social Sciences at Lund University and doctoral students affiliated to the Centre for Retail Research at Lund University.

If nothing else is stated in the course information, the course fee for doctoral students not belonging to Lund University is SEK 5,000 (+ 25% VAT).

Send your course application to gunilla.steen@ism.lu.se

Course: Retail Research Fundamental

Your name:

Your civic registration number (personnr):

Your e-mail address:

Admitted to PhD studies at (please state department, university, address):

Invoice address and contact person (if applicable):

Approval from your supervisor for applying to this course and the cost of the course is given by signing this application.

Supervisor (or equivalent):

................................................................. ...........................................................

Signature of supervisor Date

.................................................................

Clarification of signature